FAYETTEVILLE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA AND CAPE FEAR REGIONAL THEATRE PARTNER FOR A SECOND YEAR TO PRESENT THE PRODUCTION OF

AMADEUS

FAYETTEVILLE

Friday, March 20th | 7:30pm

Seabrook Auditorium, Fayetteville State University

SOUTHERN PINES

Saturday, March 21st | 7:30pm

R.E. Lee Auditorium, Pinecrest High School

The Fayetteville Symphony Orchestra and Cape Fear Regional Theatre partner for a second year to present the production of Amadeus, a play based on the 1984 critically acclaimed movie. The symphony will provide the music, and the theatre will provide the visuals as the music and life of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart unfolds live on stage. Directed by Tom Quaintance of CFRT, and Conducted by Fouad Fakhouri of the Fayetteville Symphony, this production will show both in Fayetteville on Friday, March 20th at Fayetteville State University, and in Southern Pines on Saturday, March 21st at Pinecrest High School. Amadeus does deal with emotionally intense material, some language and adult situations, and is therefore recommended for ages 12 and up.

Don't wait! Be sure to get your tickets in advance to guarantee yourself a seat at either location! Tickets are available online at www.fayettevillesymphony.org, or by phone at (910)433-4690.
